

Vox ADSL Phone

Wireless router and VoIP DECT handset

What is it?

- > Fixed line Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) telephone that offers savings of up to 50% on your telephone bill and money back when people call you. It is also a wireless VoIP router that replaces any modem/router that you currently have.

Is it for me?

- > If you spend more than R250/month on your phone bill, then the Vox ADSL Phone is for you!

What can I save?

- > 36% on national calls (Vox bills 39c/min, Telkom bills 65c/min).
- > 21% on cellphone calls (Vox bills R1.49/min, Telkom bills R1.89/min).
- > 60% on international calls (check out vox.co.za for detailed comparisons).

You mentioned money back...well?

- > 20c rebate/min on incoming landline calls.
- > 40c rebate/min on incoming cellphone calls.

What about Vox to Vox calls?

- > Talk to your friends and family for FREE - all day, any day!

How much do I have to dish out?

- > Once-off setup fee of R300 and then R49/month.

What else do you get?

- > Voice mail, caller line identity (CLI), call forwarding, call waiting and no contracts.

What do I need?

- > An ADSL line. The phone is compatible with all Telkom ADSL lines, from 384Kbps to 4Mbps.
