Vox Telepreneur, the fastest start-up in Vox Telecom's history, is aimed at consumers and SMEs. The business model, and strategic success of Vox Telepreneur, depends on harnessing the entrepreneurial spirit of South Africans. The deregulation of the South African telco sector, a formerly protected and highly regulated market, has created the ideal opportunity for a consumer initiative to be launched. Vox Telepreneur is geared to empower all South Africans to endorse telecommunications products and services through their own social networks, and in return have the opportunity to not only save on their telephony costs, but also to earn annuity income

Product Information

The Vox Supafone™ is a multi-functional cordless phone for making calls over the internet. It offers dual mode functionality, which means you can easily switch between internet (Vox) and fixed-line calls at the touch of a button. Enjoy the convenience of internet calls with exceptional sound quality.

The Vox Supafone™ is multi-line so you can register up to 6 handsets and make up to 3 calls simultaneously: 2 Vox and 1 fixed-line call.

Plus, with its energy-saving ECO DECT technology, calling is better for the environment.
